ONLINE PROGRAM

Keep up with schedule changes at the online program addenda and errata page at www.etsjets.org/program_changes.

Welcome to the 62nd Annual Meeting of the Evangelical Theological Society

This year's meeting provides us with the opportunity to give renewed consideration to the meaning and significance of the doctrine of Justification by Faith. Thirty years have now elapsed since "The New Perspective on Paul" emerged and challenged the Lutheran and Reformed understandings of justification and a host of related doctrines. Some have argued that the newer views have compromised the integrity of the gospel. Advocates of the New Perspective, however, claim that their views more accurately reflect the teaching of the Bible and, specifically, Paul's teaching on justification. The rich variety of papers devoted to this year's theme will no doubt help us all to better understand the issues and help us think through the richness of this important doctrine.

Our three plenary speakers—Thomas Schreiner, Frank Thielman, and N. T. Wright—have all written extensively on this theme in monographs, commentaries, and journal articles. To help bring the most important issues into sharper focus, a two-hour panel discussion featuring the three plenary speakers has been planned for the final plenary session on Friday. In addition to this, you can choose from over 100 different parallel session papers devoted to the theme. These include a broad assortment of papers on justification that include the antecedents for the doctrine in the Old Testament and Judaism as well as the interpretation of key New Testament texts. Of special help are a variety of papers related to the understanding and articulation of the doctrine in every era of the history of the church.

As program director for this year's conference, I have been the beneficiary of the extraordinary help provided by our new executive director, J. Michael Thigpen. Mike has done the lion's share of the work in putting this conference together. I cannot imagine organizing this conference without him. A special word of appreciation needs to be expressed to all of the past presidents of our society for their vast labor of love in organizing our previous conferences.

PARALLEL SESSIONS

The parallel sessions are composed of four different session types.

A Affiliated Society sessions feature presentations that were selected and arranged by one of the three societies which join ETS each year: the Adventist Theological Society, the Evangelical Philosophical Society, and the Near Eastern Archaeological Society.

G General Open sessions are composed of presentations that were submitted by ETS members and rated by a panel of scholars who served under the direction of the program chair. These presentations have been grouped into basic content areas: Old Testament, New Testament, Systematic Theology, Historical Studies, and Other.

P Program Unit sessions are a combination of invited papers and proposed presentations which were selected by the program unit steering committees. ETS has three types of program units. Consultations are new program units which are responsible for 1 session of invited papers at the meeting. Study Groups are narrowly focused groups which require active, collaborative participation by the group members. ETS encourages study groups to publish the results of their work. Study groups are responsible for one session of invited papers at the annual meeting. Sections are broadly defined groups that represent general areas of interest. Responsible for one session of invited papers and one session of papers drawn from member submissions, the sections offer the most access for unsolicited papers.

T Theme sessions are composed of presentations submitted by members, which address the topic of Justification by Faith. These presentations were evaluated by a panel of scholars under the direction of the program chair. The theme presentations have been arranged into cohesive sessions based on texts, topics, and methods.
