Welcome to the 74th Annual Meeting of the Evangelical Theological Society

The first meeting of ETS was held with some 60 scholars in December 1949 at the downtown Y.M.C.A. in Cincinnati, Ohio. This was a signal event in the history of American Christianity as Bible-believing scholars from a variety of institutions and denominations came together to form a new association “to foster conservative biblical scholarship by providing a medium for the oral exchange and written expression of thought and research in the general field of the theological disciplines as centered in the Scriptures.” Since that humble beginning, God has continued to bless the work of this Society far beyond, I dare say, the expectations of those who launched this effort nearly 75 years ago.

The theme of each of the ETS annual meetings is chosen several years in advance. This year’s theme is Holiness. In the Bible, holiness is both an attribute of God and the divinely-mandated requirement for all of God’s people, “Ye shall be holy; for I am holy” (Lev. 11:44; 1 Peter 1:16). We shall explore this wondrously rich biblical theme in a variety of sessions and presentations throughout the annual meeting. We have invited three outstanding scholars to help us focus our attention on the major implications of holiness throughout the Bible and in our Christian life. This year’s plenary speakers are:

John Oswalt
Asbury Theological Seminary
“Holiness: The Goal of Human Life”

Michael Haykin
The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary
“War with the hydra of Antinomianism: The Baptist Tradition and the Pursuit of Holiness in the Long Eighteenth Century”

Han-luen Kantzer Komline
Western Theological Seminary (Holland, Michigan)
“Holiness and the Christian Life: An Augustinian Perspective”

As the Society has grown in membership, so have the number of submissions to present papers. This is an encouraging development, and we are grateful for all members who have made proposals. While not all of these could be accepted you will find in this program an impressive number of perspectives exploring the biblical call to holiness. One of the highlights of each annual meeting is the presidential address and we all look forward eagerly to this year’s presentation by our ETS president, Dr. D.A. Carson, “Trishagion: Foundation for Christian Mission.”

The work of ETS involves much labor by many people. I am especially grateful for our Executive Committee, our hard-working Program Committee, and numerous volunteers who contribute so much to the success of our work. We are blessed to have Ken Magnuson as our Executive Director, assisted so well by our Meeting Planner, Bonnie Thigpen.

May the Lord bless us and cause his face to shine upon us as we come together in Denver for this annual meeting.

Pro Christo et ecclesia!

Parallel sessions
The parallel sessions are composed of five different session types.

P Program Unit Sessions are a combination of invited papers and proposed presentations which were selected by the program unit steering committees. ETS has three types of program units: Consultations, Study Groups, and Sections. Consultations are new program units which are responsible for one session of invited papers at the annual meeting. Study Groups are narrowly focused groups which require active, collaborative participation by the group members. ETS encourages Study Groups to publish the results of their work. Sections are broadly defined groups that represent general areas of interest. Sections are responsible for one session of invited papers and one session of papers drawn from member submissions, the Sections offer the most access for unsolicited papers.

A Affiliated Society Sessions feature presentations that were selected and arranged by one of the three societies which join ETS each year: the Evangelical Philosophical Society, the Near East Archaeological Society, and the Adventist Theological Society.

D Discipline Specific Sessions are composed of presentations that were submitted by ETS members and rated by a panel of scholars who served under the direction of the program chair. These presentations have been grouped into basic disciplines: Old Testament, New Testament, Systematic Theology, Church History/Historical Theology, and Practical Theology.

T Theme Sessions
are composed of presentations submitted by members, which address the conference theme. These presentations were evaluated by a panel of scholars under the direction of the program chair. The theme presentations have been arranged into cohesive sessions based on texts, topics, and methods.
